

Report of® David Thompson

Oct. 9, 1926.

Re: Choir Members:

Miss Jessie Jamison
133 Suydam Street,
New Brunswick, N.J.

Miss Jamison is employed as a sales lady at P. J. Young's Dry Goods Store on George Street, New Brunswick, N.J.

I saw her at the store and asked her when it would be convenient for her to see me at her home, as I would like to talk to her for a few moments. She replied that I could talk to her right at the store and asked who I was and what I wanted.

I informed her that I was from Mr. Watson's office and desired to talk to her about a matter connected with the church, but would prefer to see her at her home.

She replied that I would have to excuse her as she had nothing whatever to say and further informed me that there would be no use calling at her home as she would be too busy to see me at any time. In fact, in substance she gave me to understand that she would have nothing at all to do with the matter one way or the other.

Respectfully submitted:

D.T.

X